

Specification

Level 5

Sales and Sales Management
Qualifications

Valid from 01.01.18

Version 5

Ofqual regulated

ISM

The Institute of Sales Management (ISM) is the professional membership body for salespeople. Our mission is to promote standards of excellence in sales and enhance the status of sales as a profession.

ISM members are drawn from every sector of industry and commerce. From those just embarking upon a sales career through to senior and experienced sales managers and directors, they share a commitment to upholding the standards of professionalism and integrity that are all hallmarks of sales success. We are recognised by the English government regulatory body Ofqual as an awarding organisation to offer qualifications in Sales and Sales Management.

To find out more about what we do, visit our website at www.ismprofessional.com.

Contents

	Page
Introduction	4
Regulated Qualifications Framework (RQF)	3
Who are the qualifications aimed at?	4
Qualification definitions	5
Unit definition	5
Delivering the qualifications	5
Grading	5
Total Qualification Time (TQT) and Guided Learning Hours (GLH)	6
Credit	6
Language	6
Level descriptor	7
Qualification overview	8
Unit overview	10
Rules of combination for composite qualifications	12
Assessment	14
Recognition of Prior Learning and Achievement	16
Centre approval	16
Support and guidance for centres	17
Equality of opportunity	17
Units	17

Introduction

This booklet is to inform ISM learners and centres about the delivery and assessment of the ISM Level 5 qualifications on the Regulated Qualifications Framework (RQF). The latest version of this document will always be posted on the ISM website at www.ismprofessional.com/qualifications. It should be read in conjunction with the Centre Guide which gives detailed guidance on running the qualifications in your centre. The Centre Guide is available on request please email; education@ismprofessional.com

REGULATED QUALIFICATIONS FRAMEWORK (RQF)

The RQF provides a single framework for cataloguing all qualifications regulated by Ofqual.

There are eight levels of the RQF, underpinned by three 'entry' levels. A qualification's level indicates the difficulty and complexity of the knowledge and skills associated with the qualification.

The size of the qualification is determined by the estimated number of study hours both supervised and self study a typical learner will need to achieve the qualification is expressed in terms of Total Qualification Time (TQT).

For further information on the RQF, please visit Ofqual's website:
<https://www.gov.uk/find-a-regulated-qualification>

Who are the qualifications aimed at?

The level 5 qualifications have been approved for use with the following age group:

- 19+

Level 5 qualifications are Vocationally Related Qualifications designed for established or aspiring sales managers, account managers, regional sales managers or regional/key account managers.

We do not specify entry requirements for these qualifications, but centres are required to ensure that learners admitted to the programme have sufficient experience, aptitude and ability at the right level to undertake the learning and assessment.

Qualification definitions

All qualifications on the Regulated Qualification Framework (RQF) have a 'size' which is expressed in terms of total qualification time (TQT). TQT is a guide for the total amount of time measured in hours that a typical learner would need to be able to evidence the level of achievement necessary for the award of a qualification.

There are three sizes of qualifications: Awards, Certificates and Diplomas. These are determined by the TQT required to achieve the qualification.

An Award has a TQT of between 10 and 120 hours, a Certificate has a TQT of between 130 and 360 hours and a Diploma has a TQT of 370 hours or more.

The terms Award, Certificate and Diploma do not describe qualification levels. It is possible to have an Award at level 5, for example, and a Diploma at level 3.

This specification details the ISM's qualifications at level 5. Other specifications are available for other levels.

Unit definition

ISM qualifications are composed of one or more unit(s). A unit is defined as a coherent and explicit set of learning outcomes and assessment criteria with a title, credit value and level. The term 'unit' refers to a unit of assessment. ISM units share a common set of characteristics, are submitted on a template and can be combined to support the creation of coherent programmes of learning and qualifications.

Delivering the qualifications

The ISM does not prescribe any method of delivery to training organisations, which are free to use any methods of delivery suitable to their learners. Methods may include open, distance, blended or online learning. In qualifications with more than one unit, units may be delivered and assessed in any order.

Grading

Each unit and each qualification is graded Pass/Fail. A Pass confirms that the required criteria for achievement have been met. Where qualifications consist of more than one unit, the learner must pass each unit to pass the qualification.

Total Qualification Time (TQT) and Guided Learning hours (GLH)

TQT is comprised of GLH which is under the immediate guidance of a trainer or supervisor including induction, face to face training, e-learning with the co-presence of learner and tutor, invigilated exams and non-supervised directed, private and online study and non-invigilated assessment. Qualifications can be delivered in a class room or through e-learning.

Credit

Each ISM qualification has a Credit value. Credit is calculated by dividing the TQT by ten. For example a qualification with TQT of 120 hrs would have a credit value of 12.

Progression

The qualifications provide opportunities for progression to other qualifications at the same or higher levels and they support learners in meeting the knowledge and skills requirements for employment within sales. Learners can progress to ISM level 6 qualifications or similar level 6 qualifications with sales and marketing content. A number of single-unit level 5 Awards can be built up over time to progress to the level 5 Certificate in Sales and Account Management or the larger level 5 Diploma in Sales and Account Management.

Language

The qualification is offered in the medium of the English language.

Level descriptor

This qualification has been designed to suit learners working towards a level 5 qualification. Level descriptors are divided into two categories:

- I. Knowledge and understanding
- II. Skills

There is a knowledge descriptor and a skills descriptor for each Level within the framework. The descriptors set out the generic knowledge and skills associated with the typical holder of a qualification at that Level.

For more information please follow this link to the Ofqual website:

https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/461637/qualification-and-component-levels.pdf

Qualification overview

There are 13 ISM qualifications available at this level: 11 single-unit Awards, 1 composite-unit Certificate and 1 composite-unit Diploma. Units can be built up over time to contribute to the Certificate and/or Diploma. One unit within the Certificate and Diploma is a level 4 unit and is also available as a standalone level 4 qualification. Please refer to the level 4 specification if you wish to offer it as a standalone qualification.

The qualification titles given below are the titles as they will appear on the certificate when awarded to the learner. The qualification reference number is the number allocated to the qualification by Ofqual upon accreditation. Each unit also has a unique RQF unit number which can be found within the content of each unit in this specification.

Qualification title	ISM qualification code	Ofqual qualification reference number (QAN code)	Credit
Level 5 Award in Understanding and developing customer accounts	A501	600/1405/2	8
Level 5 Award in Understanding the integrated functions of sales and marketing	A502	600/1406/4	8
Level 5 Award in Sales forecasts and target setting	A503	600/1407/6	6
Level 5 Award in Leading a team	A504	600/1408/8	6
Level 5 Award in Motivation and compensation for sales teams	A505	600/1409/X	6
Level 5 Award in Coaching and mentoring	A506	600/1410/6	6
Level 5 Award in Designing, planning and managing sales territories	A507	600/1411/8	6
Level 5 Award in Analysing the financial potential and performance of customer accounts	A508	600/1412/X	6
Level 5 Award in Relationship management for account managers	A509	600/1413/1	6

Level 5 Award in Bid and tender management for account managers	A510	600/1414/3	6
Level 5 Award in Developing a product portfolio	A511	600/1319/9	6
Level 5 Certificate in Sales and Account Management	C501	600/1322/9	26
Level 5 Diploma in Sales and Account Management	D501	600/1324/2	44

Unit overview

The following units are offered within single-unit Awards and within the Certificate and Diploma.

Unit title	Unit level	ISM unit number	RQF reference number	unit Credit	Assessment method(s)
Managing responsible selling (level 4)	4	U401	D/502/9735	4	Work based evidence or assignment
Understanding and developing customer accounts	5	U501	J/503/0605	8	Work based evidence or assignment
Understanding the integrated functions of sales and marketing	5	U502	L/503/0606	8	Work based evidence or assignment
Sales forecasts and target setting	5	U503	Y/503/0608	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Leading a team	5	U504	D/503/0609	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Motivation and compensation for sales teams	5	U505	R/503/0610	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Coaching and mentoring	5	U506	Y/503/0611	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Designing, planning and managing sales territories	5	U507	D/503/0612	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Analysing the financial potential and performance of customer accounts	5	U508	H/503/0613	6	Work based evidence or assignment

Relationship management for account managers	5	U509	M/503/0615	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Bid and tender management for account managers	5	U510	A/503/0617	6	Work based evidence or assignment
Developing a product portfolio	5	U511	T/503/0616	6	Work based evidence or assignment

Rules of combination for composite qualifications

Unit combinations for qualifications consisting of more than one unit at this level are listed below.

The Certificate in Sales and Account Management consists of a combination of units. To achieve the Certificate, learners must complete each of the mandatory units U401, U501, U502 and U503, totalling 26 credits.

Level 5 Certificate in Sales and Account Management

Unit code	Unit title	Mandatory/ Optional	Assessment	Credit
U401	Managing responsible selling (level 4)	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	4
U501	Understanding and developing customer accounts	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	8
U502	Understanding the integrated functions of sales and marketing	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	8
U503	Sales forecasts and target setting	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	6

The Diploma in Sales and Account Management consists of a combination of units. To achieve the Diploma, learners must complete each of the mandatory units U401, U501 and U502, giving 20 credits, plus any four of the optional units worth another 24 credits, totalling 44 credits.

We recommend Sales Managers select from optional units: U503, U504, U505, U506, U507

We recommend Account Managers select from optional units: U503, U508, U509, U510

Level 5 Diploma in Sales and Account Management

Unit code	Unit title	Mandatory/ Optional	Assessment	Credit
U401	Managing responsible selling (level 4)	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	4

U501	Understanding and developing customer accounts	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	8
U502	Understanding the integrated functions of sales and marketing	Mandatory	Work based evidence or assignment	8
U503	Sales forecasts and target setting	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U504	Leading a team	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U505	Motivation and compensation for sales teams	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U506	Coaching and mentoring	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U507	Designing, planning and managing sales territories	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U508	Analysing the financial potential and performance of customer accounts	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U509	Relationship management for account managers	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U510	Bid and tender management for account managers	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6
U511	Developing a product portfolio	Optional	Work based evidence or assignment	6

Assessment

All units will be internally assessed by the centre and externally verified by the ISM. No units are assessed by examination in these qualifications. Learners will need to show that they meet each of the assessment criteria detailed within each unit, to the required standard for the level of the unit. For further details on the assessment please refer to the ISM Centre Guide.

Centre assessment staff

The centre is required to appoint at least one Assessor who is responsible for assessing the learning against the assessment criteria in the unit. The Assessor may be the teacher or trainer who delivers the learning.

The centre is also required to appoint an Internal Quality Assurer who is accountable for the verification of the all assessment decisions in the centre for the ISM qualification(s). The Assessor and Internal Quality Assurer roles must be carried out by different people. If your centre has difficulty finding a suitable person for the Internal Quality Assurer role please contact the ISM at education@ismprofessional.com or phone 01582 227 801.

ISM assessment staff

An ISM-appointed External Quality Assurer is linked to the centre for the purposes of support, guidance and external verification. The External Quality Assurer checks that the centre is applying the correct standards and either approves the centre's assessment decisions or gives guidance until centre decisions are deemed to be accurate.

Assessment routes

There are four possible routes to fulfilling the assessment criteria for each unit, and each route is equally valid:

- Route A is via Work Based Evidence
- Route B is via Model Assignment
- Route C is via Contextualised Model Assignment
- Route D is via Centre Devised Assignment

One route must be chosen per learner per unit. A centre with more than one learner may assess some learners through one route and other learners through another route at the same time or over a period of time. Learners taking qualifications consisting of more than one unit can provide evidence through one route for one unit and through other routes for other units. However, where the route chosen does not cover adequately some of the assessment criteria, evidence from other routes may be added to fulfill the assessment criteria.

Centres are asked to indicate which route(s) they intend to offer, when applying for ISM centre recognition. Model Assignments are provided on request.

Route A: Work Based Evidence

This route is available for learners employed in sales who have the opportunity to produce work based evidence showing that they have met the assessment criteria through their employment. Evidence must be generated through their day to day work and may take any format, as long as it produces relevant tangible evidence which can be accessed by a third party.

Examples of types of evidence are:

- Witness statements
- Observations of performance in the work environment
- Learner statements
- Written evidence such as diaries, emails, reports, presentation slides
- Photos
- Video recordings
- Interview or viva voce
- Project documentation
- Verbal presentations This list is not conclusive.

Work based evidence may be built up over time and assessment criteria in the unit can be ‘ticked off’ gradually until they are all met. At the time of assessment against the particular assessment criterion, evidence must be current ie produced within the past three years. Evidence must be authentic ie produced by the learner.

Work based evidence should be assessed holistically, and one piece of evidence may cover more than one assessment criterion. One piece of evidence may be used for assessment across different units and across different qualifications, provided it meets the relevant assessment criteria.

Route B: Model Assignment

A Model Assignment is available for each internally assessed unit, which provides the learner with the opportunity to meet all the assessment criteria in the unit. The Model Assignment consists of one or more tasks, based on a fictional yet realistic sales situation. Centres are responsible for providing the Model Assignment to learners and for setting deadlines, monitoring progress and assessing learner work against the assessment criteria.

Centres use the ISM Model Assignment exactly as they receive it, with no amendments. The Model Assignment will be sent to centres on request.

Route C: Contextualised Model Assignment

A Contextualised Model Assignment gives centres the opportunity of adapting the Model Assignment, to tailor it to the needs and interests of the centre or learners. For example the centre may change the setting of the Model Assignment from a car sales situation to a pharmaceuticals sales situation. A Contextualised Model Assignment must enable learners to meet all of the assessment criteria for the unit and must be approved by the ISM in advance of issuing it to learners.

Route D: Centre Devised Assignment

Centres can create their own Centre Devised Assignment from scratch using the ISM Assignment Template. A Centre Devised Assignment must enable the learner to meet all of the assessment criteria for the unit and must be approved by the ISM in advance of issuing it to learners. The assignment may consist of one or more tasks.

Centres choosing this route must ensure that each Centre Devised Assignment:

- permits the learner to meet all of the assessment criteria in the unit
- is relevant to the content of the unit
- has clear instructions to the learner as to what is expected
- has clear instructions to the learner regarding the duration of the assignment (if it is a timed activity), and what reference or other material they may use (if any) to complete it
- contains language free from any bias
- contains language and technical terms at the appropriate level for the learner

Recognition of Prior Learning and Achievement

Within this suite of qualifications, learners have the opportunity to build their achievements from a single unit into a composite qualification. Learners may apply via their centre to claim for credit transfer and exemption where they have completed relevant units and qualifications from other Awarding Organisations. Credit transfer in the RQF will be based on confirmation of achievement of RQF units.

There will still be instances where learners will wish to claim recognition of prior learning which has not been formally assessed and accredited. In those instances, centres are free, after discussion and agreement with the ISM, to allow these learners direct access to the relevant assessment for the unit, without unnecessary repetition of learning. Details of the process for recording such RPL (Recognition of Prior Learning) are available from the ISM.

Centre approval

Centres must pass through the ISM centre approval process to become an ISM Recognised Centre before offering any RQF qualifications. An application form is available on request please the email education@ismprofessional.com.

Support and guidance for centres

Each centre is allocated an ISM External Quality Assurer whose role is to support and advise all of the centres in the region as well as to verify assessment decisions. The External Quality Assurer will contact the centre at the Centre Approval stage so that support may start immediately.

A handbook is provided to centres to give guidance on administrative procedures. It is updated annually and the latest version is on the ISM website.

Study guides tailored to each unit are available to support learners.

For up to date details of the above support, visit the ISM website at www.ismprofessional.com.

Equality of opportunity

We endeavour, in setting the structure and content of our qualifications, and in our processes and arrangements for assessment and awarding, to:

- Ensure access and equality of opportunity wherever possible without affecting the integrity of the qualification
- Not create unnecessary barriers to achievement.
- Guarantee fair assessment for all candidates, including those with particular assessment requirements.
- Comply with the requirements of equalities legislation in force from time to time
- Ensure that it does not discriminate on the grounds of race, disability, gender and transgender, political or religious belief, age, marital/civil partnership status, sexual orientation, or on any other ground or status
- Ensure that all staff and associates are aware of the policy and receive adequate training to ensure its implementation and compliance

Units

Unit U401: Managing responsible selling

Unit aim	This unit aims to cover the knowledge involved in managing an organisation's operations in ways that are consistent with its social and ethical principles, and which fulfill legal and regulatory requirements. For the purposes of this unit, 'organisation' can mean a self-contained entity such as a private sector company, a charity or a local authority, or a significant operating unit, with a relative degree of autonomy, within a larger organisation.
----------	--

Level	4	ISM Unit no.	U401	RQF unit reference no.	D/502/9735
Credit value	4			Guided Learning Hours	35
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 7.7, 7.8

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Know legal, regulatory, ethical and social requirements pertaining to the sales function	1.1. Explain sales-related legal and regulatory requirements and Codes of Practice 1.2. Understand the principles of contract law and the penalties for misrepresentation 1.3. Analyse the potential impact of social and ethical concerns relating to the sales function 1.4. Explain how processes and policies in the organisation meet ethical and social	1.1 Detail of relevant requirements and explanation of implications to sales individual/teams. 1.2 Discussion re. offer and acceptance, intent, consideration, capacity, form of contract and legality. 1.3 Highlighting the importance of trust and credibility; treating customers fairly and with respect. 1.4 Explanation of necessity for all personnel to know and requirements and comply with legal and regulatory requirements	understand policies and procedures including information about how these comply with legal and regulatory requirements.

2. Understand how to manage the sales function in a way that complies with legislation	2.1 Describe how to ensure that sales employees have a clear understanding of the organisation's legal, regulatory, ethical and social policies and procedures and the importance of putting them into practice 2.2 Explain how to monitor the way that legal, regulatory, ethical and social policies and procedures are put into practice 2.3 Describe how to provide support to the sales team in putting legal, regulatory, ethical and social policies and procedures into practice	2.1 Outline of potential internal communication channels which can be used within a company to ensure information about policies and procedures are known and understood. 2.2. Discussion of role within company of appraisals, assessments, reviews and tests, which work together with relevant external stakeholder comments. Lead by example. 2.3. Suggestions regarding coaching, expert helpers, mentoring and training which provide support and keep everyone up-to-date with procedures.
3. Know how to deal with noncompliance	3.1 Explain how to identify and correct any failures to meet the legal and regulatory requirements 3.2 Explain how and when to provide full reports about any failures to meet requirements to senior management 3.3 Explain how to monitor and manage complaints regarding legal, regulatory, ethical and social requirements	3.1. Conformity and nonconformity issues to be dealt with at management level through proactive and reactive responses, whilst recognizing denial is not an option. 3.2 Emphasis on communication to ensure understanding of compliance issues, and the need for impartial documented evidence when appropriate to back up non-conformance incidences. 3.3 Demonstration of company monitoring measures regarding compliance procedures.

Unit U501: Understanding and developing customer accounts

Unit aim	The aim of this unit is to support knowledge, understanding and skills necessary to establish how customer organisations select suppliers as part of their supply chain and to use information gathered on how organisations select suppliers to develop a customer accounts plan. When involved in winning customer business we must know how organisations select their suppliers and be able to maximise opportunities for becoming members of the supplier chain by achieving preferred supplier status.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U501	RQF unit reference no.	J/503/0605
Credit value	8			Guided Learning Hours	40
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 9.3, 9.5

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand buying practices of customers	1.1 Evaluate the organisational and personal influences of the Decision Making Unit on buying practices	1.1 Interpret the internal and external factors that influence the buying process. The numbers in the DMU, the internal culture and existing buying processes. Externally how to use PESTLE analysis – political, economic, social technological, legal and environment factors and their influence on the wider environment and how that affects buying practises. 1.2 Exploration of the customers approach to exhaustive, limited or routine problems

	1.2 Evaluate choice criteria of customers and how such criteria affects sales 1.3 Review the concept of 'preferred supplier' status 1.4 Identify buying practices used by organisations 1.5 Evaluate measures of quality relating to buying and accredited quality programmes 1.6 Identify capability and capacity assessments customers undertake on potential suppliers	and how they go about solving them. 1.3 Explanation and definition in light of Proforce Recruit Limited v Rugby Group Limited case of 2007. Topic expanded later in 4.5 1.4 Assessment of direct approach, tendering, eprocurement and preferred supplier lists. 1.5 Recognised programmes for quality standards reviewed such as ISO9001 and applications to sales and purchasing. 1.6 Review of the areas that are likely to be assessed. Items such as financial stability, service commitment on delivery and quality, policies in relation to the environment and waste, staff development and overall corporate social responsibility.
2. Understand customer support issues	2.1 Evaluate how organisations develop product or service specifications for buying purposes 2.2 Evaluate how the technical and resource support provided by own organisation adds value for the customer 2.3 Evaluate competitive practices relating to the decision making process	2.1 assessment of the internal value chain concept along with impact of history and culture and how they guide specifications 2.2 when, why, how and who to include from your own team to provide the necessary technical input in the sales process. Assessment of what preparation, training and coaching may be required for those individuals. 2.3 what information can be gained in relation to competitor activity? Benchmarking other techniques and approaches against

	4.4 Identify existing suppliers of customers and conduct a competitor analysis to identify own organisation's strengths and weaknesses 4.5 Identify strategies for achieving preferred supplier status 4.6 Evaluate existing contracts between competitors and the customer 4.7 Evaluate own organisation's contractual practices relating to determining supply terms and conditions	customer be won and managed successfully and profitably Areas to consider product suitability, size and capability, margins, additional service costs and likely competitor response on price and product/ service development. 4.4 introduce Davidson's 7 step drill for competitor analysis. Match this against own SWOT to identify areas of distinction and value for the customer. 4.5 explanation of concept and best practice. Interpretation of the limits of preferred supplier status – not a guarantee of priority rights but a level of approval that means the supplier does not require further checks. 4.6 Interpretation of what competitors offer in relation to your capabilities. 4.7 benchmark against industry standard and those of other industries. Do contractual arrangements prevent sales? Collate information from customers and sales teams.
--	---	---

5. Be able to use information gathered to plan to develop customer accounts	5.1 Identify tactics which could be utilised to achieve the strategies in developing and winning new accounts	5.1 develop the concepts of segmentation targeting and positioning and how they can be used to make developing and winning new business more effective.
--	--	--

	5.2 Evaluate the importance of ongoing evaluation and monitoring of own current customer accounts 5.3 Evaluate own current customer accounts 5.4 Use information gathered to plan to develop current and new accounts	Look at segmentation techniques for customer types, order behavior and size. Developing profiles that can be applied to find similar accounts. Consider the value of referrals, industry events and online activity with platforms such as blogs, direct newsletter and social media. 5.2 Regular assessment allows the sales person to see changes in buying behavior early which means corrective actions can be taken. Also helps with the management of time and resources. Is the account in decline? Items to watch – order values, cancelled appointments, competitor activity or pressure of margins. Or growing? Rise in order value and frequency? Requests for more visits or specialized products and swifter delivery. 5.3 – Assessment of the criteria that could be used to make the evaluation – items such as sales volumes, profitability, product types ordered, efficiency of account management and payment terms. Refer back to corporate and departmental objectives and the individual account plans. 5.4 – Application of information into the account planning process (see 3.1) and how that combined with profiling of 5.1 will lead to objectives and strategies for the individual account plans.
--	--	---

--	--	--

Unit U502: Understanding the integrated functions of sales and marketing

Unit aim	This unit aims to support knowledge and understanding in demonstrating the commercial importance of marketing to an organisation's success, both in the long term and also for the short / medium term. It includes demonstrating the value of marketing analysis in leading an organisation to develop a strategy which focuses resources upon appropriate customers, with a clear positioning message and products / services addressing the specific requirements identified. It supports the clear interrelationship between sales and marketing.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U502	RQF unit reference no.	L/503/0606
Credit value	8			Guided Learning Hours	40
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Marketing NOS 2.1.3

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand how a marketing strategy supports the sales function	1.1 Analyse how a marketing strategy supports an organisation 1.2 Evaluate the relationships between marketing, sales and other functions 1.3 Analyse how a marketing strategy supports the sales function	1.1 Explain marketing orientation and the development from production and sales orientations. The value of marketing planning and the corporate planning hierarchy. 1.2 The setting of objectives and formal and informal communication processes. How the marketing information system (MKiS) is used and managed. 1.3 The setting of corporate objectives and the role that sales and marketing play in the delivering of those. The importance of satisfying customer need.

2 Understand marketing research	2.1 Evaluate the use of up to date and relevant market information to support sales-related decisions 2.2 Differentiate between primary and secondary data 2.3 Identify and interpret trends in sales-related data 2.4 Differentiate between sources of market information and evaluate the validity of data 2.5 Evaluate a range of analytical tools to analyse sales-related information and why each one	2.1 The role of the marketing audit and how that shapes marketing and strategy and sales activity. Emphasis on PESTLE factors and competitor actions and customers demands and behaviours. 2.2 Explain the concepts with examples from Keynote, Mintel and others. Show sources of primary and secondary or desk research and the benefits of each approach. 2.3 Discuss how models such as product life cycle and Boston Consulting Group Matrix can be used to manage product portfolios and marketing communication activities. Strengths and weaknesses of models analysed. 2.4 Assessment of the available sources such as government information, industry journals and commentators, sector research from external research companies and competitor analysis. Internal sources such as own primary research, customer feedback and interpretation of sales information 2.5 Through explanation and application of statistical techniques such as ratio and

	might be chosen in a given situation 2.6 Analyse the suitability, relevance, validity and reliability of market information 2.7 Differentiate between ways of presenting quantitative and qualitative market information	interval analysis. Relationship models such as regression and cluster analysis. Application to marketing and sales planning, product portfolio analysis and strategy development. 2.6 Criteria to be used as part of the analysis, for external information: source of information, size of sample, age of data, relevance to market place/ industry sector. For internal: similar items along with skills involved of those who have collected and analysed the data. 2.7 Explanation and understanding of the difference between quantitative and qualitative research. Application to customer information and communication and use in sales presentations. Circumstances when numbers are more useful and when opinion and behaviour make a more powerful argument.
--	---	--

3 Understand the use of marketing research in sales	3.1 Review how to obtain feedback from colleagues about the usefulness of sales-related information 3.2 Evaluate budget allocations for obtaining market information	3.1 Preparation and analysis of formal feedback such as questionnaires. Options for informal feedback and the limitations of that option. 3.2 Cost versus benefit exercise. Budget allocation techniques such as objective and task assessed and how the cost of information may in turn open up
--	--	---

	3.3 Evaluate the importance of the sales function contributing realistic market information to the marketing function Evaluate how an organisation's policy on the storage of information can meet data protection requirements 3.4 Appraise how the use of sales-related information can result in changes to the marketing mix and the marketing and sales strategy 3.5	new opportunities or prevent costly mistakes. 3.3 Explanation of the marketing information system concept and how that applies in practice. 3.4 Overview data protection act best practice and principles for any customer data held. Setting up of procedures that protect customers. Allocation of roles and responsibilities 3.5 using sales information such as that on competitors, market chances and customer needs and how it can change pricing tactics, such as differential pricing, price skimming, and penetration pricing Discussion of similar effects in product development and promotion
--	--	--

4 Be able to use market analyses in sales	4.1 Employ market analyses to inform the development of a sales strategy that takes account of market trends and competitor activity 4.2 Review market analysis to identify a clear positioning message that aims to satisfy target	4.1 Applying the information gained from micro and macro environmental analysis and assessment of the factors relevant to sales plan. Interpretation of other models such as Product Life Cycle and Porter's Five Force analysis and how they will impact on sales forecast and activity plans. 4.2 Incorporating Porter's generic strategy and breaking down further using Ansoff Growth Matrix to understand where success will come for the product/brand/service.
--	---	--

	4.3 Review the competitive edge of the organisation's products / services 4.4 Calculate the financial return to the organisation resulting from the targeting of customers	4.3 Using customer feedback, independent and analysis and product development plans to establish position against competitors. 4.4 Return on investment calculations. Understanding 80/20 (Pareto) and the importance of heavy users in the market place. Size of market segment analysis and expected share using scenario planning
--	--	---

5 Be able to progress sales through alignment with marketing strategies	5.1 Identify how the organisation can benefit from addressing the requirements of target markets 5.2 Review how new products / services allow the organisation to satisfy customers' changing needs and how this generates return upon investment 5.3 Appraise how marketing strategies and plans help to develop and maintain positive relationships with the organisation's sales team(s) and customers, and the resultant	5.1 develop the ideas around marketing orientation and relationship marketing, Establishment of segmentation criteria and appropriateness to individual organisation and marketplace. Using segments to develop targets based on factors such as accessibility, sustainability and profitability. 5.2 Boston consulting group Matrix of product portfolio management and how that informs decisions to match customer needs Explain steps of new product development process from idea generation to commercialisation. 5.3 measurement of customer retention and loyalty and development, pricing and promotion accordingly.
	benefits in terms of customer loyalty and competitive advantage 5.4 Evaluate the value of marketing in progressing sales	5.4 measurement of the success of marketing activities by recording corresponding sales increases and progress. Putting balanced scorecard controls and measurements in place to gain an all round organisational and customer view.

Unit U503: Sales forecasts and target setting

Unit aim	This unit aims to develop knowledge and understanding of forecasting sales and setting sales targets for your own area of responsibility The unit includes how to collect and use information to develop a sales forecast, based on past and present sales data, factors which influence sales, sales trends, market conditions and product and service developments within your organisation. You then use forecasts based upon value and volume measures to develop sales targets.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U503	RQF unit reference no.	Y/503/0608
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 1.1, 3.1

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand forecasting in relation to sales targets	1.1 Explain how to forecast future trends 1.2 Evaluate information needed for sales forecasting and how it is analysed	1,1 Use of qualitative (opinion and judgement based processes) and quantitative (mathematical based approaches) methods. Qualitative – Customer surveys, Delphi Technique and sales force composite options. Quantitative time series, moving averages and use of computer modelling. 1.2 Relates to purpose and level of forecasting required. Making appropriate

	1.3 Analyse common causes of variances between forecast and actual sales 1.4 Evaluate the effects of failing to forecast 1.5 Explain how to set challenging and realistic sales objectives and targets	decisions based on balance of opinion against numbers. 1.3 Issues such as skills in forecasting ability, no regular reviews, forecasting to a wish list rather than market reality, internal and external factors 1.4 The impacts on corporate planning and what that means in terms of market position and overall company profitability. 1.5 Working with the sales person to agree targets. Use of historical data, market research, product developments. Understanding the sales manager's responsibility to reach corporate objectives.
2. Understand forecasting in own organisation	2.1 Evaluate own organisation's available sales information 2.2 Evaluate other information available in own organisation that could contribute to sales forecasting activities 2.3 Evaluate how plans for product and service development may impact on sales forecasts 2.4 Compare past variances between forecast sales and sales achieved and reasons for those variances	2.1 Asking the right questions – is there a regular variance? What processes are used? 2.2 Assess data such as customer records. Market research, marketing environment predictions, product/service developments and pricing changes. 2.3 Assess the likely contribution of any new product/service based on anticipated customer demand, timing of launch and expected competitor reaction. 2.4 Using historical data and feedback to match performance against forecast in previous sales periods.

	2.5 Evaluate the benefits of using IT and software systems for sales forecasting 2.6 Explain measurement and control mechanisms applied by own organisation for the reporting of variances 2.7 Identify problems and issues outside of own control which may impact upon sales forecasting activities and achieving of sales targets	2.5 Is it currently used? What benefits are seen? Consideration of flexibility and adaptability of software programmes. 2.6 Research own organisation versions of control. Look at responsibility and how often the forecasts are reviewed. 2.7 Consideration to both macro and micro environmental factors that could have impact. Macrofactors based around wider economy and any legal and/or technological change. Use Porter's five forces to assess the micro environment customer changes, competitor actions and influence of other stakeholders (suppliers, resellers)
3. Be able to forecast sales	3.1 Use a forecasting method(s) to prepare an analysis to predict future sales trends 3.2 Consult colleagues about sales forecasts and identify the implications for the organisation	3.1 Exercise to explain the qualitative and quantitative methods introduced in 1.1 3.2 Setting up of formal process to gather opinion and input from relevant internal sources – meetings, questionnaires and reporting.
4. Be able to set sales targets and objectives and devise measurement activities to monitor them	4.1 Set challenging and realistic sales objectives and targets based on sales forecasts 4.2 Devise measurement activities to monitor actual performance against forecast sales	4.1 Reference to corporate and team objectives and how this breaks down for individuals based on the sales forecast 4.2 Quantitative measures – revenue achieved, profits, sales per account, order numbers,

		new customers acquired and number of calls made. Qualitative measures – customer feedback, sales skills, product knowledge, time management and organization. Use of field visits, customer survey and reporting.
--	--	--

Unit U504: Leading a team

Unit aim	This unit aims to provide the learner with knowledge and understanding of transactional leadership: to share a vision and to set goals and define tasks that move people towards the vision. Leadership skills include building trust, focusing people on the right tasks, creating accountability and maintaining alignment.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U504	RQF unit reference no.	D/503/0609
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 4.1 Business and administration NOS 321, 415, 418

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand principles of leadership	1.1 Evaluate the relationship between leadership and management 1.2 Evaluate different styles of leadership and how to select and apply these to different situations and people	1.1 Discussion of what makes a good leader and the difference between leadership and management. Leaders focus on the future, create change and develop an emotional link with followers. Managers focus on the present and implement rules and procedures Interpretation of the key leadership characteristics – directing, organising, planning and controlling 1.2 Discussion of the leadership continuum from autocratic through to laissez-faire and what situations the style will need to be adapted. For example during periods of change, in disciplinary situations. Adair's action centred leadership model – achieving the task, managing the team and managing the individual.

2. Know how to build trust between self and team	2.1 Explain how to make decisions considering the good of all stakeholders 2.2 Explain how to foster collaboration within own team and between own team and other teams in own organisation 2.3 Explain how to demonstrate fair, principled behaviour	2.1 – Stakeholder analysis using Mendelow's power and interest matrix. Review the roles of typical stakeholders and the level and type of communications required to build trust and partnership. 2.2 Application of the Block Matrix to interpret the concerns or motivations of those in the team and other teams in the organisation. By understanding the position of others appropriate communications/actions can be put in place. 2.3 Importance of clear and honest communication with individuals and the team Need for consistency in leadership style that engenders trust and encourages two way communication within team and organisation. The use of actions as well as words by the setting and maintaining of policies and practices that are fair to all members of the team.

3 Know how to share own vision with team	3.1 Explain how to communicate a vision to own team, which articulates underlying values and sets the context in which goals are selected and pursued 3.2 Explain how to have two-way communication with the team, enabling team members to ask questions, interpret the vision and see their role in achieving it	3.1 Presentation techniques – preparation, style and format and execution. Plus importance of link to wider company values and how the team goals fit in with delivery of shared success 3.2 How to effectively provide team briefing on both a regular ad hoc basis. This can be done by face to face meeting and via use of technologies such as intranet and email or tele and video conferencing Focus on the ability of the manager to set and explain the vision and objectives and what that means for both the team and the individual’s role within it. What performance indicators will be set and what the rewards and incentives for the team will be for achievement?
4 Know how to focus team members to complete tasks and achieve objectives	4.1 Explain how to identify key tasks to achieve objectives 4.2 Explain how to allocate work to team members by communicating objectives and delegating tasks 4.3 Explain how to demonstrate encouragement and support of team members to complete tasks and achieve objectives	4.1 – Recognising that not all tasks are the same and don’t require the same managerial input. Prioritisation using a simple, A,B,C method – a) manager to do, b) partial delegation and c) full delegation 4.2 Work allocation and delegation skills – identification of correct work, provide suitable resources and briefing, keep your distance, supervise as necessary and two way review on completion. 4.3 Use of appropriate praise and recognition, both formal and informal. The need for clear explanation of tasks and objectives.

	4.4 Explain how to steer a team through difficulties and challenges, including conflict 4.5 Explain how to monitor progress and quality of work and provide constructive feedback 4.6 Explain how to provide recognition when objectives are achieved	Understanding the different needs/motivations of individuals How to recognise team members who are struggling and need additional help. 4.4 Recognising where the team are in the forming, storming, norming and performing phase of team development. Use of communication skills, clarity of tasks and plans and the option for two way feedback 4.5 Progress monitors can only come from the setting of SMART objectives – the benchmark for progress to be measured against. Use of feedback from customers, team members and the manager’s own spot checks. Monitoring of mistakes and errors with subsequent costs. Feedback delivery via one to one or more ad hoc formats. 4.6 Use of formal approaches through one to one’s, written confirmation and wider recognition in team settings, when and how to use. Informal and ad hoc approaches and their place.
--	--	--

5 Know how to create accountability in team members	5.1 Explain how to demonstrate accountability for achieving own tasks	5.1 setting of own goals via personal development plan and/or sharing of individual targets and performance measures with team members.
	5.2 Explain how to create accountability in team members	After one to one appraisal with line manager, brief team on key points. 5.2 The setting of measurable objectives (SMART) and performance indicators that are applicable to team members achieving tasks The discussion and ownership of any tasks and the provisions of necessary support and skill enhancement to enable the individual to achieve them.

6 Know how to maintain alignment of own actions with team and organisation	6.1 Explain how to maintain alignment of organisation's resources with its vision and goals 6.2 Explain how to demonstrate consistency in strategy, structure and resource allocation at operational level 6.3 Explain how to demonstrate own actions as being congruent with own words, at interpersonal level	6.1 Benchmark work progress and team performance against corporate goals. Assess where variance may be – staff levels and skills, other resources such as money, mechanization or marketing. Take corrective action. 6.2 Consistency demonstrated by benchmarking and review against task completion, individual and team objective. Regular assessment and feedback to target and taking of any corrective action. 6.3 Gather feedback from team members and line manager in relation to actions and other communication. Develop an approach to personal assessment and evaluation as part of an overall personal development plan.
---	--	---

Unit U505: Motivation and compensation for sales teams

Unit aim	This unit aims to review and evaluate motivation and compensation for sales (or account) teams. This unit is about how team leaders and managers can achieve results through motivation of, and compensation to, the sales team. Compensation covers wages / salary, plus incentives, commission, bonuses, and other rewards to sales teams. The unit focuses on the principles of motivating sales staff to produce excellent results by reducing negative feelings, encouraging positive feelings, creating enthusiasm and involvement, and concentrating efforts on key issues. 'Compensation' relates to salaries and wages as well as 'rewards' i.e. incentives, bonuses, commission
-----------------	---

Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U505	RQF unit reference no.	R/503/0610
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 4.3

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand motivation and compensation for sales teams and individuals	1.1 Evaluate the interrelationship between motivation, compensation, and sales success 1.2 Explain motivation theories and team building techniques that support motivation	1.1 Complex application of motivational theory. More than just financial reward and bonus structure. 1.2 Review of Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs and Herzberg and Vroom and the more specific applications to the workplace.

	1.3 Identify the importance of providing recognition for the sales team 1.4 Review methods to recognise sales performance 1.5 Evaluate the range of financial and non-financial incentives and motivational tools available to motivate members of the sales team 1.6 Explain how to carry out appraisals and performance assessments in order to judge the levels of personal motivation in the sales team 1.7 Evaluate how personal development plans can be used	1.3 Forms of recognition from public praise to bonus award. Discussion of Herzberg's hygiene factors and how individuals require rewarding work, training and profitability. 1.4 Quantitative methods such as customer satisfaction scores, new business pipeline and customer retention and growth. Contrast with qualitative methods such as customer satisfaction scores, new business pipeline and customer retention and growth. 1.5 Assessment of incentives available – financial salary increase, bonus and commission. Non financial – promotion, training, projects, additional responsibility, larger customer accounts and internal recognition. 1.6 Setting up a formal process. Agreement of KPI's with written confirmation. Set dates for regular review, (one to ones) with reference to performance against KPIs and opportunity for discussion in relation to non quantitative items, 1.7 Explanation of PDP format and the key components
--	--	---

	to encourage motivation and achievement 1.8 Explain performance measures that can be used to measure and evaluate sales teams	How to develop with individual with emphasis on the individual's own input and setting of objectives. 1.8 Distinguish between measures for the individual and those for the team overall. Sales targets and budgets, performance against forecast. Customer focused measures – feedback, service standards, retention and growth. Performance measured against the individual's PDP.
2. Be able to review motivation and compensation for own sales team	2.1 Review formal and informal methods by which the motivation of own sales team is monitored and measured 2.2 Evaluate recognition and the compensation package(s) for own sales team 2.3 Evaluate scope for change in recognition and compensation	2.1 informal methods such as face to face meetings, social occasions and feedback. Use of formal assessment via one to ones, customer feedback and performances against objectives. Factors to consider when reviewing – size of team, geographical split, customer base, environmental changes and performance against other teams. 2.2 Benchmarking against other internal departments and sales teams across other industries. Assessment via sales person feedback and any changes in performance in response to improvements in package. 2.3 Understanding the existing culture and approach of

	package(s) in order to maintain or improve motivation 2.4 Review performance measures that are used to measure and evaluate own sales team	organisation to sales and reward and recognition. Look at how any changes would affect costs and projected increase in sales performance. Understand market factors that could limit the ability to change. 2.4 Evaluate the relevance of what is measured. Question is it still relevant to sales person/team/organisation and market place? Importance of matching to objectives. Measures to reflect current corporate objectives and not historical procedures.
--	---	---

Unit U506: Coaching and mentoring

Unit aim	This unit aims to provide understanding of the principles of coaching and mentoring, and the skills for planning, delivering a coaching or mentoring programme and for and evaluating own coaching or mentoring practice.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U506	RQF unit reference no.	Y/503/0611
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Management NOS MSC D7, Sales NOS 4.2

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand the principles of coaching and mentoring	1.1 Describe the principles of coaching and mentoring 1.2 Explain how linking mentoring with objectives and activities is effective in developing individuals, teams and organisations	1.1 – Key aspects: one to one development discussions, develops the individual strengths and weaknesses, a non-directive development format, covers both individual and organizational goals and have a focus on performance improvement and individual skill development. 1.2 Linking to objectives to give the long term nature of mentoring focus. By taking broad view of the individual it is more about career and personal development than specific tasks. Encourages results through team and organisational success. 1.3 Understand the differences between coaching and

	1.3 Explain how coaching and mentoring can benefit individuals, teams and organisations 1.4 Explain the processes of coaching and mentoring 1.5 Explain the boundaries of coaching and mentoring 1.6 Evaluate the importance of communication skills in coaching and mentoring 1.7 Explain how to conclude the coaching or mentoring process, reviewing success against agreed criteria	mentoring and when to use. The skills required by the mentor and coach. Assessment of the longer term nature and focus on personal development as opposed specific job skills and task achievement of mentoring and the more specific nature of coaching. 1.4 For coaching individual improvement from the setting and achievement of goals to improve a particular aspect of performance and behavior. Mentoring- shaping the individual's beliefs and values over the longer term. Achievement 1.5 Discuss circumstances when coaching or mentoring becomes counselling. Differentiating training from the one to one nature of coaching and mentoring 1.6 Skills related to listening, questioning, suggestion, interpreting and activity setting. 1.7 Ending the coaching process will be set out at beginning of project, in relation to the objectives set and the time frame agreed. Ending any mentoring is likely to be reviewed by the individuals involved using specific dates/ anniversaries or ad hoc or 'feel' basis.
--	--	---

2. Be able to plan a coaching or mentoring programme	2.1 Plan a coaching or mentoring programme based on identified performance needs 2.2 Agree success criteria for a coaching or mentoring programme	2.1 Use of GROW model – goal, reality, options and what – framework for coaching/mentoring programme. 2.2 Work back to the individual's goals in their PDP and those of the team/ organisation. 2.2 Work back to the individual's goals in their PDP and those of the team and organisation.
3. Be able to deliver a coaching or mentoring programme	3.1 Organise coaching or mentoring sessions 3.2 Deliver coaching or mentoring sessions and maintain records 3.3 Review coachees' or mentees' progress toward their agreed goals	3.1 Practical issues around timing, preparation, location, format and follow up. 3.2 Skills required being effective – focusing on the individual, non-directive nature, recording of notes and action points. Emphasis on career development. 3.3 Setting of milestones towards final goal. Assessment of development from results achieved. Use of feedback from team/peers and senior managers.
4 Be able to evaluate own coaching or mentoring practice	4.1 Gather feedback and evaluate own coaching or mentoring practice 4.2 Evaluate the impact of coaching or mentoring on the individual, the team and the organisation	4.1 Using observation by other coaches and feedback to assess performance. Gathering of feedback from the coachee or mentee and their assessment of effectiveness and progress. 4.2 How the individual's performance can be assessed against agreed objectives and key performance indicators.

		Assessment of how this can be expanded to include the wider team and organisation using performance measures consistent with corporate planning hierarchy.
--	--	--

Unit U507: Designing, planning and managing sales territories

Unit aim	The aim of this unit is to develop knowledge and understanding of the design, planning and management of sales territories and the work of the sales team in those territories. You will analyse the market, and appraise options for the definition of territories in order to establish the appropriate territory plan to optimise the sales effort. You will also be expected to plan and resource the work of the sales team in those territories.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U507	RQF unit reference no.	D/503/0612
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 1.2, 1.4, 2.7

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand sales territory design, planning and management	1.1 Identify the reason why own organisation has chosen its sales territories 1.2 Review own organisation's market and customer segmentation strategies in relation to market 1.3 Explain how to undertake an investigation and evaluation of sales territories	1.1 Introduce organisation and territory structures – geographical, product, customer based and account size. 1.2 Introduce the concept of a market centered structure. Products being matched to industry sectors. Explain benefits of specialization. 1.3 Techniques to establish workload and match to company objectives. Review territory in relation to competitor activity,

	1.4 Evaluate sales territories taking into account the size and economic support systems that may influence choice of territory boundaries 1.5 Evaluate the potential turnover, profit and growth potential of a territory 1.6 Review resource requirements for a territory in terms of sales activities 1.7 Explain why territory administration and information about potential territories are important to territory planning 1.8 Explain how to design sales territories in terms of size, location, number of customers,	increased costs and customer changes. 1.4 Measurement of number of customers and call frequency against average weekly call rate and working weeks per year. Cost to manage workload against predicted returns. 1.5 Estimating number of clients and calculating turnover from historical data or similar account size measurements. Incorporate environmental factors (PESTLE) to predict potential 1.6 Use workload requirements and assessing against company objectives. Plus assessment of potential and the affect on resources requirements. 1.7 Benefits of planning and the ability to manage resources and meet customers need. Influences of customer orientation and dynamic nature of today's marketplace and how review and assessment are a key element of developing sustainable competitive advantage in marketing and sales. 1.8 Explanation of structuring methods in detail from 1.1
--	---	--

	1.9 prospective accounts and number of contacts Identify how to monitor, evaluate and measure territory and individual sales performance	Introducing new and existing customer territory planning structure. 1.9 Set targets for territory based on potential Set targets for individual based on activity, history and sale potential. Match both to overall team and corporate targets
2. Understand factors that affect territory management	2.1 Evaluate competitor activities relating to territory structures 2.2 Identify the spread of own organisation's potential and existing customers 2.3 Review own organisation's sales forecasts and sales targets and criteria for successful territories 2.4 Evaluate sales budgets and own organisation's performance management systems 2.5 Identify the key drivers for selecting or retaining a territory	2.1 Which territory planning criteria are used by competitors 2.2 Establish criteria for customer assessment. Size, product/service purchase, purchase history, strength of relationship and environmental factors. 2.3 establish accuracy of sales achievement to sales target. Review successful territories and the key factors in that success. Understand factors that influence sales target – corporate and departmental objectives. 2.4 Budget setting options and approaches. Explanation of benefits and limitations of benchmarking. Performance measures evaluated – balanced scorecard, individual KPI's appraisals and assessments.

	2.6 management approach for structuring sales team activities Evaluate suitable territories through investigation of the financial, economic and external marketing environments	2.5 Establishing performance criteria and how team delivers to corporate targets. Assessment of territory potential and work load changes. 2.6 Use knowledge of territory planning techniques to match resources to market place and customer need. Assessment of factors such as costs to service customer and likely business potential.
3 Be able to review and revise territory plans	3.1 Carry out a market assessment on a territory based on own organisation's criteria, including external market information and sales forecasts 3.2 Review the time and human resources needed to cover a territory and meet sales and profit targets 3.3 Evaluate the risks and benefits of defining new sales territories 3.4 Plan sales resource requirements based on	3,1 Use of PESTLE and SWOT to give insight Review performance using current territory setting approach. 3.2 Take into account current success and structure. The role of technology and impact on efficiency. Costs involved in recruitment, salary and operations. 3.3 assessments of benefits – achievement of targets, better use of resources, the right team members doing the right work. Against – disruption to customers, unsettlement of team individuals, need to upgrade skills, 3.4 Detailed calculation (w =nt +nT) of worked and how to include territory potential.

	information about number, size and location of customers 3.5 Set financial and sales activity targets for the sales team	3.5 Match into wider objectives of company. Understand the role of salary and commission in targeting.
4 Be able to resource sales territories	4.1 Set boundary lines for each sales territory 4.2 Assign sales team members territories by matching knowledge, abilities and skills	4.1 match agreed territory planning approach to workload. Communicating the boundaries and reasoning to each team member via one to ones and KPI's 4.2 Knowing team members strengths, weaknesses and experience. Set territories in line with individual KPI's and past performance,

Unit U508: Analysing the financial potential and performance of customer accounts

Unit aim	The aim of this unit is to ensure sales and account managers have the skills to analyse and manage the financial performance of customer accounts. It costs much more to win a new customer than it does to retain an existing customer. However, organisations often fail to realise the costs of maintaining customers. This unit is about how to maximise profit by monitoring accounts. You need to understand that measurement of potential and financial performance of customer accounts must be undertaken at the opening of the account and throughout the relationship with your customer. If you measure and understand the profitability of accounts, you can direct and define the development of your customer relationships and their overall impact on your business.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U508	RQF unit reference no.	H/503/0613
Credit value	6	Guided Learning Hours			30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 1.4, 3.5, 8.1

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Be able to use financial tools to assess and prioritise new accounts and measure potential value	1.1 Estimate the lifetime value cash flow that will be generated if the customer maintains an average loyalty level 1.2 Calculate the sales volume required to achieve target profitability	1.1 Establishing the value of an average order and rate of purchase and multiplying by average customer lifetime. 1.2 Using average profitability from previous sales to establish required performance for sales target. 1.3 Demonstrate and explain fixed versus variable costs. Potential variables – staff,

	1.3 Measure the potential variable costs that could impact upon the profitability of accounts	materials, other resources etc.
2. Be able to follow the organisation's management accounting procedures	2.1 Evaluate costs of fixed overheads and administrative support and apply them in line with the organisation's management accounting procedures 2.2 Use a customer account profit statement for ongoing measurement of customer performance	2.1 Recognising the items that make up fixed costs and how they are apportioned to your division. Establishing means of evaluation and understanding of management accounts. 2.2 Allocate costs against order value of customer. Set in place regular updates and monitoring.
3. Be able to evaluate financial risks	3.1 Evaluate the business and financial risks associated with each account and draw up a risk profile of the accounts 3.2 Estimate the value of each account using available financial and qualitative evidence 3.3 Review the financial performance and other features of each account to identify key trends and variances 3.4 Make business decisions about the future direction of an account based on its financial performance 3.5 Prepare contingency plans for when problems arise in financial performance of an account	3.1 Risk profiling – discussing areas such as ability to pay, too big to manage, too small to service, potential for growth. 3.2 Collating financial information (lifetime value, profitability) with opinion research and direct feedback from customer and wider marketplace. 3.3 Techniques to plot data over time periods and against other data. Explain use of variance analysis. 3.4 Understanding the key factors to take into account. Evaluate time and resources needed to service the account. Establishing a balance against external circumstances, corporate objectives and account profitability. 3.5 Understanding of scenario planning, regular review and techniques to use to tackle

	3.6 Consult and communicate with stakeholders to ensure that they have access to appropriate financial performance data	problems- communication, research, change of approach etc. 3.6 Identify stakeholders. Plan communication patterns and techniques for individual stakeholder groups. Establish particular needs. Understanding Power/interest matrix to establish level of activity.
--	--	---

Unit U509: Relationship management for account managers

Unit aim	This unit aims to provide knowledge and skills for relationship management in sales
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U509	RQF unit reference no.	M/503/0615
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 5.5, 9.6

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand how to build relationships with accounts	1.1 Explain what information is needed about the account and competitors 1.2 Describe how to build trust with accounts 1.3 Explain how to provide expertise to improve the productivity of the account 1.4 Explain how to reduce the account's financial burden	1.1 Understand what it is your customer buys from you. Investigate customer's assessment of all product /service offers. Understanding your sustainable competitive advantage. 1.2 Key aspects of honesty, empathy, openness and sharing of aims and objectives. 1.3 Developing relationships at many levels and not just salesman to buyer. 1.4 Use of technology, investment in process and

	1.5 Explain how to improve the quality of service provision 1.6 Describe how to maintain account loyalty to own organisation	accuracy of service/ product offer. 1.5 Understanding customer requirement. Analysis of serv/qual and reduction of service quality gaps. 1.6 Investment in customer focus Research into market place, customer relationship and product/service development.
2. Understand how to use networking in sales	2.1 Evaluate methods for developing a personal network of contacts to meet current and future needs for information, resources and sales opportunities 2.2 Explain the importance of reciprocity and confidentiality in networking 2.3 Evaluate methods for maintaining communication with contacts in personal network	2.1 How to use industry journals, sector events, profile raising, exhibitions, social networking and direct approaches. 2.2 Development of trust and longer term nature of nurturing relationships. 2.3 Using events, email, social occasions and social media opportunities
3 Understand how to use consultative selling	3.1 Evaluate methods for researching prospective customer organisations suitable for consultative selling 3.2 Evaluate methods for establishing rapport and own credentials with customer organisation 3.3 Evaluate strategic questions to identify issues in the customer organisation which represent sales opportunities	3.1 How to use industry journals, sector research, companies house, exhibitions and networking. 3.2 Assessment of direct approach, use of third parties and establishment of sector leadership using online tools and literature. 3.3 investigation against capabilities of selling organisation to meet the need

	3.4 Quantify in financial and strategic terms the effects of the most important issue or opportunity 3.5 Evaluate solutions for the customer organisation issue	3.4 Prioritising of issues Use of scenario planning to give value to opportunity 3.5 Assessment of value added by solution. Fit with organisation's objectives.
4 Know when and how to undertake stakeholder analysis	4.1 Describe the importance of and the need for stakeholder analysis 4.2 Describe how to identify and analyse the needs and concerns of different stakeholders	4.1 The stakeholder map and inter related and conflicting demands they make on the organisations 4.2 Categorisation using internal/external and connected stakeholder mapping. Using Menelow Power/ interest Matrix to target and give emphasis to communications and activity.

5 Understand how to monitor and control customer relationships	5.1 Evaluate the concept of monitoring and control in maintaining relationship management activities 5.2 Evaluate own organisation's requirements relating to monitoring and control activities 5.3 Evaluate methods of formal and informal feedback for monitoring of key customer activities 5.4 Identify and evaluate techniques to be used to analyse information obtained during monitoring and control	5.1 Recording customer retention, account profitability and growth. Setting KPI's for individual account managers. 5.2 what to measure and how to achieve organisations own objectives. 5.3 Use of external research for objective feedback Options available internally – survey, ad hoc feedback, collation of information from other departments. 5.4 Development of MkIS and how information gathered
	5.5 Identify key strengths and weaknesses of the relationship and areas for improvement	helps strategic decisions and relationship expansion. 5.5 Collating information via MKIS Informal and formal use of information – research, customer survey and sales calls.

Unit U510: Bid and tender management for account managers

Unit aim	This unit aims to provide knowledge and skills for bid and tender management. Bid and tender management involves working to strict timescales, producing documentation to support the bid and tendering the bid.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U510	RQF unit reference no.	A/503/0617
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 5.1

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand the principles of bid and tender management	1.1 Describe the principles of bid and tender management 1.2 Describe the bid cycle	1.1 Identifying customer need, the information required, how to differentiate your bid, allocating resources, deliver to deadline, review and learn. 1.2 From receipt of bid, decision to bid/no bid, preparation, submission and final evaluation.
2 Be able to prepare for a bid	2.1 Analyse the role of management and own organisation's procedures for bidding 2.2 Identify the customer's perspective and needs	2.1 Current approach to bidding and success rate. Allocation of resources. Level of management commitment and involvement. Assessment of available skill levels. Setting up a bid team. 2.2 Analysis of key benefits customer is looking for. Why are they using a bid process? Assessment of the benefits they are seeking.

	2.3 Qualify the opportunity 2.4 Determine the bid strategy 2.5 Analyse competitors who may also bid 2.6 Establish a bid plan	2.3 Making the bid/ no bid decision. Qualifying criteria. Plus profitability and value decisions based on costs to delivery against overall contract value. Any other benefits other than monetary value. Risk assessment. 2,4 Strategic choices – For each bid how to win, tackling customer’s set criteria, developing uniqueness. When and how to use partners and alliances. 2.5 Key competencies of competitors and analysis of major differences. Understand their capabilities and how they might meet customer’s need. 2.6 Key elements of plan. Appointing a bid manager/ controller. Satisfying core elements, adding any differentiating factors, managing resources, financial assessment. Submission and review.
3 Be able to write a bid	3.1 Write a bid to meet the needs of customer and own organisation	3.1 Understanding structure of bid, compliance with any bidding procedure, satisfying requirement of bid, being able to deliver all aspects of customer criteria. Elements that make the bid stand out. Value to organisation over lifetime of bid contract.

4 Be able to tender a bid to the customer	4.1 Tender a bid to the customer	4.1 Meeting this deadline, the mechanics of delivery, supporting information and confirmation
5 Understand how to follow up the tendering of the bid	5.1 Explain how to carry out posttender activities	5.1 Request feedback, analysis of process – timing, resources, meeting customer needs, compliance and preparation of learning outcomes.

Unit U511: Developing a product portfolio

Unit aim	This unit aims to provide the knowledge and skills for determining selling priorities across a portfolio of products /services based upon an understanding of the current and potential profitability of the components of the portfolio. It includes assessing the products /services within the portfolio to determine which might be retained and developed, as well as any risk and vulnerabilities associated with the portfolio.
Level	5	ISM Unit no.	U511	RQF unit reference no.	T/503/0616
Credit value	6			Guided Learning Hours	30
Mapping to National Occupational Standards	Sales NOS 2.10

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Indicative content
1. Understand product portfolio development	1.1. Explain the importance of long and medium-term planning to the success of a portfolio of products / services 1.2. Evaluate the sales and organisation benefits obtained from being involved in the portfolio development process 1.3. Outline the factors to be considered when reviewing the profitability of products / services	1.1 Changing nature of markets, customer demands and external factors (PESTLE). Developing and maintaining a sustainable competitive advantage. 1.2 Development of market position, profitability, developing customer relationships, business growth – Ansoff Matrix 1.3 Costs of production and materials. Factors putting pressure s on prices. Assessment of competitor actions.

	1.4. Evaluate tools and techniques used in analysing product and service portfolios from a sales perspective 1.5. Review how to develop contingency plans to address risks and changing circumstances 1.6. Evaluate the inter-relationships that occur between products / services within a portfolio and their impact on buying decisions 1.7. Evaluate the need to consult with colleagues and other stakeholders during the review of a portfolio	Porter's Fiver Forces factors – threat of new entrants and power dynamics 1.4 Collating information. Review effectiveness of Product Life Cycle (PLC) and Boston Consulting Group Matrix (BCG) 1.5 Recognising sources of risk, scenario planning for business environment changes. Discuss Planning frameworks, assess appropriate project management process 1.6 Using the PLC to asses each product position. Assessing connections of products and services via bundling, add-ons and analysis of purchase behaviour. 1.7 Assessment of information requirements. Decision making responsibilities. Role of HR, finance, marketing, operations/product. Using the Block Matrix to understand relationships.
2. Understand how to contribute to the development of a product portfolio	2.1 Evaluate the importance of contributing to the development and marketing of products / services that offer the best return on investment, in line with the organisation's objectives, and how to do so	2.1 Assess New Product Development process. Focus on key stages of marketing strategy and business analysis. Understanding the role of sales in the process

	2.2 Evaluate the importance of monitoring how your products / services are priced, promoted and distributed, in response to feedback from customers	2.2 The role of marketing information system (MKIS), using research customer feedback, and competitor analysis to plot trends and evaluate.
3. Be able to analyse the product portfolio	3.1. Analyse the range of products / services within the portfolio 3.2. Assess how to monitor demand for your products / services 3.3. Write a business case for amendments or additions to your organisation's portfolio, including the investment required and the forecast return on investment 3.4. Analyse the profitability and lifecycle of the products / services within the portfolio 3.5. Analyse the markets at which the products / services are targeted and determine factors impacting upon their growth	3.1 More explanation of BCG and explanation of GE matrix and comparison with Shell Directional Matrix 3.2 Use of sales data, customer feedback and research. Sales forecasting and pipeline management.